PRESIDENT

George Eads

Welcome back from a wonderful summer here in the great Pacific Northwest. In our Executive Board meeting, we discussed the lack of attendance at our General Membership meetings. If you have any suggestions for how we can get better attendance, please let a member of the Executive Board know of your ideas.

As members of NARFE, we all need to step up and be very pro-active in calling our elected representatives. On page 9 of the September issue of the NARFE magazine, it gives you complete instructions on how to make that important call. The call week this year is September 16-20. Please make your voice be heard to Congress and let's all do our part to make a difference.

We have had some planning meetings for the 2014 Federation convention hosted by Chapter 181 and we are making progress. As time moves closer to the date, we will need more volunteers to help out. Call Bea Bull or Ralph Sanders and let them know. We will be electing chapter officers again in November. If you have a desire to run for any office, please let an Executive Board member know.

I encourage you to always read your monthly NARFE magazine. It has great information to keep you informed concerning actions affecting your earned benefits. I hope to see you at our September General Membership meeting. Bring a friend to the meeting with you. They are always welcome.

I NEED YOUR HELP: Each month I try to find a speaker who is relevant, interesting and free. Each time I call, their first question is "how many people will be there" and I find myself crossing my fingers as I say "about 50". Sadly, our attendance is going down - sometimes we have only 20 people and that includes the speaker. Your Executive Board is even discussing the possibility of quarterly meetings and possibly asking Poulsbo and Port Orchard to attend our meetings. Please bring a friend, even though they are not a NARFE member - let's fill those chairs. Thank you. Amber VanSantford

Washington State Federation of Chapters
Bi-annual Convention
Ralph Sanders, Convention Co-chair

This article is for the information of the members of District 4 which will host the 2014 (54th) Washington State Federation of Chapters Bi-annual Convention, to be held at the Silverdale Beach Hotel on May 13-15, 2014. Bremerton Chapter 181 has taken the lead on this project with assistance from Port Orchard, Poulsbo and Sequim chapters.

We have thirteen (13) committees established to accomplish this project, with sixty-six (66) separate functions. Three of these committees still need Committee Chairs and almost all of the committees need helping hands. The committees still needing chairs are:

Solicitations/Door Prizes (solicit each Federation chapter for a door prize, store and catalog prizes, hold drawings);

Printing and Publications (Lead in the design of the program book, have books printed, solicit ads, prepare memorial book); and

Greeters (meet people at the hotel door, give directions to convention functions, be familiar with restaurants and other accommodations in Silverdale).

This is your opportunity to be of service to your chapter, your District and to NARFE. In future newsletters we will get more specific about what we are doing and what needs to be done. If you are interested, and I am sure you are, contact any Chapter 181 officer listed on the back page of this newsletter. Thanks for your help.

CALL TO ACTION

What you can do:

- September 16-20 is "Call Congress Week". Call-in instructions are on page 9 of the September NARFE magazine.
- If you still have your July NARFE magazine, follow the instructions on page 44 to write to your Congressional Representatives.

LEGISLATION

Jim Strunk

"We in America do not have government by the majority. We have government by the majority who participate."

Thomas Jefferson

Congress returns to work again in September after their summer break. The partisan divide is still essentially like the Great Wall of China, keeping each side at bay; the President's 2014 budget needs to be approved by October 1st (it is highly doubtful that it will be) and the sequester cuts are still in place with no large budget deal in sight to end them. It looks like there will be a continuing resolution to run the government on the existing budget levels of 2012. That's the good news. The bad news for the nation is that it doesn't look like things will change anytime soon, either before or even possibly after the mid-term elections in November, or even looking into the 2014 budget year.

Setting the agenda for the 2013 Congress: The Republicans, before departing for their summer break in August, managed to pass several House bills which were intended to bash the federal government and especially federal employees; the bills were only passed in the House. All this so they would look good to their Tea Party constituents in their secure gerrymandered voting districts who still hold most republican office holders hostage to the Tea Party's far-right conservative ideology. The Tea Party base is looking to the House Republicans to stop any budget proposal for 2014 unless it contains provisions to completely defund Obamacare.

All of this posturing, while intended to publicly state conservative political positions, does not appear to be impacting NARFE retired members. Note, however, that the hiring and pay freeze for active employees remains in place through 2013. NARFE retired member health benefits and pay are unaffected by sequestration and the most dire conservative bills which could affect them will never make it out of the House to the Democratic Senate. This doesn't mean that you should not respond to NARFE requests to write to your congressional representatives about bills that try to deprive active and retired federal employees of their earned pay and benefits. Your Representative and Senators need to know that you see these proposals as unfair and as attempts to repress and diminish federal service and federal employees. This is particularly true with the Chained-CPI proposal which appears to be in vogue in the administration as a part of any potential "big budget deal" and could be considered part of any congressional entitlement reform.

Local Congressional meetings: An early-September meeting is scheduled in Congressman Kilmer's Bremerton office for the NARFE chapter presidents from Bremerton, Port Orchard, and Poulsbo and our District Service Officer from Sequim. They plan to present NARFE positions on a range of pay and benefit issues on behalf of their members. These face-to-face meetings, while difficult to arrange due to Kilmer's demanding congressional schedule, are necessary and an important service provided by chapter officers to members.

Keep reading the monthly NARFE magazine as it has excellent legislative updates as well as reports that make sense of complex legislative issues and proposals that affect all NARFE members.
